Uncovering the Hidden Burden of Genitourinary Conditions Workshop

This NIDDK-sponsored workshop will be held on October 6-7, 2019 on the NIH Campus in Bethesda, Maryland. The purpose of the workshop is to convene an interdisciplinary group of researchers and health professionals to answer key questions about benign urologic conditions (BUCs), including: what data are needed to understand the hidden burden of BUCs; how can these data be captured in a feasible manner to build a complete picture of the burden of BUCs; and new tools that are needed for data capture. Registration deadline: September 27, 2019.

Funding Opportunities

Stimulating Urology Interdisciplinary Team Opportunity Research (SUITOR)

The Stimulating Urology Interdisciplinary Team Opportunity Research (SUITOR) program is intended to promote innovative, high quality, interdisciplinary research relevant to the mission of the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases (NIDDK). The NIDDK invites investigator-initiated research project grant applications (R01s) in specific areas of basic, translational and clinical research in specific benign urologic conditions and diseases where needs and opportunities for progress are particularly timely. Application deadline: June 5, 2019.

Doris Duke Physician Scientist Fellowship

Sponsored by the Doris Duke Foundation, this award provides $100,000 for annual direct costs for one or two years to physician scientists at the subspecialty fellowship level who are seeking to conduct additional years of research beyond their subspecialty requirement. The goal is to aid in the transition into a research faculty appointment. Application deadline: June 7, 2019.

Now Accepting Applications: CDMRP Prostate Cancer Research Program

Program announcements are now available for the 2019 Congressionally Directed Medical Research Programs (CDMRP) Prostate Cancer Research Program. Three different awards are available this year including one specifically for early-career investigators.
