Disclosure Requirements

The AUA requires that prior to participating in programs all individuals make full disclosures of all financial and intellectual conflicting interests (COIs), i.e., private or institutional interests of individuals which may, under certain circumstances, compete or conflict with their duties owed to the AUA. These COIs include affiliations, ownership interests, investment interests, intellectual property interests, business or employment relationships, scientific studies or trials, presentations or publications, with (1) any entity researching and developing, producing, marketing, selling, re-selling or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients (2) healthcare publications or (3) other medical associations.

A complete list of disclosure requirements is available in Principles, Policies and Procedures for Managing Conflicts of Interest on AUA’s website.

Disclosure Period

Any existing relationships within the past 24 months should be disclosed prior to assuming a role with the AUA. Ongoing disclosure of new relationships is also required for the duration of that role.

Records must be updated after April 1 to be considered current for the Association Year (June-May). Participation in certain AUA activities may require you to review and confirm disclosures more frequently than once a year.
How to Log In

Enter the quick link AUAnet.org/coi in the address bar of a web browser.

COI Disclosure Program Main Page

Depending on the user’s status, members will see one of two options on the main page.

Option 1 – New to the disclosure system/Returning users with a status of “nothing to disclose”.
Users may add a new disclosure or declare that they have nothing to disclose. See pages 7 and 8 for a sample of the Add a Disclosure Form.

Conflict of Interest Disclosures

The AUA requires that prior to participating in programs all individuals make full disclosures of all financial and intellectual conflicting interests (COIs), i.e., private or institutional interests of individuals which may, under certain circumstances, compete or conflict with their duties owed to the AUA. These COIs include affiliations, ownership interests, investment interests, intellectual property interests, business or employment relationships, scientific studies or trials, presentations or publications, with (1) any entity researching and developing, producing, marketing, selling, re-selling or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients (2) healthcare publications or (3) other medical associations.

Please disclose affiliations or relationships, whether compensation was received or not.

All items for the past two years should be disclosed and are listed under the active tab. Future disclosures may be added to your active record.

Editing Disclosures: Confirmed disclosures are part of a member’s permanent record and cannot be deleted. Members may edit the company type, specialty area, description or end date. If a disclosure is no longer current select edit to add an end date to conclude the relationship.
