AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS COMMISSION ON CANCER

Membership Criteria

The individual being considered should:

- Be interested and willing to serve on the Commission on Cancer (CoC).
- Actively represent and communicate about the activities, issues, and concerns your organization.
- Have knowledge of the CoC’s goal and activities.
- Have an interest in contributing to, and enhancing, the CoC’s programs.
- Be involved in a CoC-accredited cancer program (if applicable).
- Communicate CoC activities and updates to your membership.
- Submit an annual activity report to AUA’s leadership/board.
- Serve a three-year term with eligibility to serve a second term based on engagement and contributions.
- Serve on a minimum of one subcommittee of the CoC.
- Attend and participate in at least two in-person meetings annually along with subcommittee conference calls.

Meetings

Members attend the annual Commission on Cancer in-person meetings in July in conjunction with the ACS Quality & Safety Conference and in October in conjunction with the ACS Clinical Congress. Additional responsibilities include service on an ACS subcommittee that meets quarterly via conference call.
