

EDWARD M. MESSING, MD, FACS

Edward M. Messing, MD is Professor of Urology and Oncology at the University of Rochester. Prior to this, he was the Winfield W. Scott Professor and Chairman of the Department of Urology at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry from 1995–2018, and the Deputy Director of the James P. Wilmot Cancer Center at the University of Rochester from 1996-1998.

Dr. Messing received his degree from New York University in 1972, did his surgery training at NYU-Bellevue Hospital in New York 1972-1974, and his Urology Residency at Stanford University 1974-1978. After 2 years on the faculty at Tulane University, he completed a fellowship in Urologic Oncology at UCLA in 1982. He was on the faculty of the Division of Urology at the University of Wisconsin from 1982-1995, being Director of their Urologic Oncology Program for the last 10 years.

Dr. Messing is a renowned expert on the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of cancers of the bladder, prostate, and kidney. He has conducted the largest screening study for bladder cancer in a general population and carries on extensive research in the basic biology of these cancers. He has been the principal investigator on numerous clinical studies for the detection, prevention and treatment of them several of which have changed the standard care for patients with these diseases.

Dr. Messing has served as an Examiner on the American Board of Urology and AUA Joint Examining Committee and served on the American Urological Association (AUA) Guidelines Panel on the Evaluation of Hematuria. Dr. Messing also held a leadership position on the Renal Cancer Subcommittee of the GU Committee of the Southwest Oncology Group (SWOG) and was formerly co-chair of the GU Committee of the Eastern Cooperative Oncology Group (ECOG). He has been President of the Society of Urologic Oncology and of the Northeastern Section of the AUA. He received the Ramon Guiteras Award in 2018, a Presidential Citation in 2013, the SUO Medal in 2016, and the SUO Distinguished Service Award in 2020. He has been a member of the AUA since 1984.